Messrz. Mortimer & Mowbray: Gents: Last September I was attacked with erysipelas, from which a dreadful ulcer formed on my right leg. Getting better of this, last November I took a deep cold, which led to what my physician told me was bilious pleurisy, which left me with a constant, deeply-seated, and painful cough, having no rest day or night, and constantly throwing up from my lungs a thick matter. I became much emuclated, growing weaker every day, and keeping my bed the greater part of the time. My friends thought I had the consumption, and at times I was also of the same opinion. At this stage of my disease, after having tried many and various remedies, without success, a friend advised me to try DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, and procured me a bottle, which I now pronounce tried many and various remedies, which is according to the procured me a bottle, which I now pronounce the greatest medicine I ever took. Before I had taken half the contents of one bottle I felt much improved; and now, having taken but two bottles, my cough and pains have entirely left me, and I am enabled to attend to business. I can truly say that, with the blessing of God, I have been restored to the health I now enjoy by the use of this most invaluable medicine.

NORTHAMPTON CO., April 13, 1862.

Messrs. Tyler & Adair: I have been afflicted with Rheumatism, at times, from my twelfth year; I will be fifty years of age the 18th of this month; the attacks were at times so severe as to render me helpless; I have tried various remedies to very little effect. Last October I was attacked in my shoulders, sides, back, and hips; I could not rest, day or night; I could not move any part of my body without crying with pain; at this time I also tried many remedies, internal and external, without receiving any relief; I was at last advised to try HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE; before I had taken one bottle of which I felt much better.

before I had taken one bottle of which I felt much better, and as I continued taking it I felt strength coming into my back and limbs, and my stomach strengthened and revived every way; I have taken five bottles, and am much better than I ever expected to be. I intend to use it whenever I need it, and would recommend it to the afflicted, believing it unequalled.

PORTSMOUTH, (Va.,) Aug. 18, 1851.

Mr. J. E. Boush—Dear Sir: While I am in general opposed to Patent Medicines, candor compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family, and in Dyspepsia, loss of appetite, dizziness, and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy.

KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HAR-VESTER
BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME IS BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME!

ITS utility is beyond comparison with any other farming implement now in use. It takes the seed from the field, leaving the straw or grass all standing. It weighs two hundred and fifty pounds, is drawn by one horse, and gathers from ten to twolve acres per day. The fingers, or teeth, catch all the heads, the revolving knives cut them off and throw them back into the box, which will cross a twenty-acre field without emptying. The heads are then loaded into a wagon and taken directly to the mill for-leaning, thus diminishing the labor three-fourths, and saving all the seed. This machine comes so low that every farmer will have it, and pays the manufacturer 300 per cent.

E. WHEELER, Agent for Washington.

CROSS KEYS, WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP, CAMDEN CO., N. J., September 4, 1861.

We, the undersigned, do certify that we have seen Mr. Krauser's Patent Clover Harvester in operation, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It has gathered many of the farmers' clover in this neighborhood—it is all that Mr. Krauser and his bills represent it to be. The farmers have given one-half for gathering and threshing.

Long-A-Coming, October 7, 1851.

This is to certify that Mr. G. J. Naylor has gathered clover off of a sixteen-acre field of mine, which has been pastured two months with ten head of cattle, and it produced six bushels and a half and one peck of seed. I gave him two-thirds for gathering and cleaning. I think his machine is first-rate, and answers all the purpose that is intended.

NEHEMIAH NICHOLSON. The following points out the profitable nature of KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HARVESTER. KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HARVESTER. We have conversed with a number of Farmera, and they are of opinion that there are at least 3,000 acres in each township in Camden or Gloucester county, New Jersey. Admitting there are but 1,000, it is said that each acre will yield from 1½ to 3 bushels. Reducing it to a certainty of yielding but 1 bushel per acre, what will it cost to gather and thresh 1,000 acres?

This Harvester will gather 12 acres per day. At 8 acres per day, it will take 5 harvesters 25 days, at a cost of. $150 culation.

Perhaps no invention offers greater inducements for a profitable investment than the Harvester. For an enterprising young man, of good business habits, a large sum of money could without doubt be realized from the sale of rights in the different States of the Union not yet disposed of. By calling at this office, it can be demonstrated satisfactorily that men of moderate capital could not choose a better or more money-paying business.

Those who wish to see a model of this celebrated farming implement and the satisfactory mannering which it correctes.

I used nothing but the Mustang Liniment.

"About one week age I had the misfortupe to cut the can healed up, and is now perfectly well, though somewhat scarrified. I used nothing but the Mustang Liniment.

"About one week ago I had the misfortune to cut the cap of my left knee in two with the sharp corner of an axe. The cap was split asunder, and for a day or two I could not use my leg at all, and I was afraid that I would lose its use forever. The cap was cut and cleft to the joint with a deep and alarming gash, and it gave me great pain and uneasiness, lest I should be entirely deprived of the use of my leg. I applied the Mexican Mustang Liniment, and that alone, in both of the above cases, and I am now quite well, except the cap of my knee is a little swollen, and is tender about the cut, which is healed up and shows a fresh red appearance of about one inch and a half in length and a quarter of an inch in width, but gives me no inconvenience whatever.

"I walked fifteen miles yesterday out of the thirty miles from the place where I live near the Sulphur Springs, in Jefferson county, and feel able to walk as many more today. My recovery has been so wonderful that I feel it my duty to make it public, that the world may know the value of the Mexican Mustang Liniment.

COMMUNICATION.

MESSES. EDITORS: I was an accidental listener a debate of extraordinary character in the Senate a day or two since, being no less surprised at the vehemence manifested, considering the magnitude of the question involved, by potent, grave, and reverend seigniors, than at the doctrines adrocated. The question was, whether a special law should, without any reference of the matter to a committee, be passed to explain away the force of a former law, (which had gone through all the ordinary stages of consideration of committees, &c.,) so as to preclude the right to more than one salary by an individual who had performed two duties-and this to be effected in the absence of every member who had acted in committee on the question. To me this looked like a dangerous sort of legislation, and seemed to be fixing precedents in small matters, which were fraught with more serious results than the participants imagined. Now, as of certain individuals who have manifested such hot haste in this matter, whether as sappers and miners covertly or as open disputants in the Senate, and the individual they could so disinterestedly head off, I for the life of me cannot see much difference between their positions, admitting as true all the former represent.

One would suppose, from the nature of the Senate's discussion, that it was something new or one person to hold a position where he could egally be entitled to two salaries; for, notwithstanding the loud blast given at the beginning of the chase, it appears in the sequel that no claim or demand has ever been made for more than one, in this case-from which I would infer that the Senate may have been duped, for reasons which may more fully be known hereafter. From the freshness with which venerable Senators rushed to this encounter-from the indignation manifested-from the time occupied in debateone would not suppose that this very principle of double pay for double duty has been admitted by the present Comptroller every quarter since he has been in office. He allows one clerk in the Department of the Navy, one in the Treasury, and one in the State, each, two salaries for two duties. Does not the chief clerk of the Register of the Freasury receive two salaries, of which one is for duties in connexion with the Joint Committee on the Library? Does not a clerk in the Treasury Department receive additional pay for duties connected with the Coast Survey?

Richard Rush drew two salaries for the offices of Attorney General and Secretary of State, filled at one time. Mr. Mason did the same; so did Mr. Monroe. Where was Senatorial thunder then ?-where the "honest" indignation toward official rapacity which we now see bursting forth so involuntary and uncontrolled as to force through a special law, as if the whole ship's force is to be called together to close a port-hole, when missing plank is overlooked. With some, unlocked treasure is safer than under bolts and bars with others; and I think the present will prove

But, Mr. Editor, are there not more ways than one of holding and benefiting by two offices, and are they not equally repacious who profit by them, if so? Let us apply the rule, for example, to imaginary cases, and take a Comptroller. Does not one hold more than a single office practically when he has in the same room with himself one of his own name, at a salary of $1,400, he himself holding the largest salaried bureau under the government-they jointly receiving near five thousand dollars per annum? Has he other relatives in office, or does he perform the duties of two or three offices, holding the salaries of the lesser ones in suspense while he performs the duties of all, whether "munimental," annihilator, or other? Would it be modest for such a one to draught a resolution so cautiously worded as not only to cover an official blunder of his own, but specially devised to cut down the salary of another from $3,000 to $2,500 per annum, and that retrospectively? I do not think these people do wrong, either in holding offices themselves in duplicate, or in the person of their children. I only wonder that they do not run with the hare, in place of joining with the dog and giving tongue with the pack.

I generally find something under a pharisaical affectation of industry in the public service, and in labored efforts to head-off the current of fortune to others: I am apt to suspect more than appears on the surface. And I sometimes think that the bearer of multiplied burdens carries them as imid passengers in a calm carry their life-preservers, and that the cry of Stop thief! is not always genuine, but betokens something amiss in the shouter. Thus it seems. Then take the case of a Senator who has legislated a score of years, almost carelessly sleeping over those laws which, when they become applicable to one individual, rise like ghosts before his frighted imagination: s he any kin to the Secretary of Legation at St. James? Take another who thought this little matter very pressing, and look for his son in the Coast Survey office. Now, this is all proper, all lawful; but I should like to see this zeal manifested by different persons to stop up the spiggot by others than by those who are drawing from the bung-hole. In this whole matter there is something as yet hidden from the record. There are some, as they think, behind the scenes, who little imagine how plainly their promptings are heard, and how distinctly their shadows appear. Of them we may consider more Anon. †
